

A line drawing of a bathtub with a glass partition on the right side. The partition is held in place by two vertical metal supports with horizontal bars at the top and bottom, suggesting a sliding door mechanism.

