

An isometric line drawing of a shower door assembly. It features a rectangular frame with a sliding glass door. The door has two vertical handles. The assembly is shown in a three-quarter perspective, highlighting its depth and the way it fits into a shower pan.

